VIII. RISK MANAGEMENT POLICY (updated March 2025)

PJM Market Activities – Related to Wholesale Power Supply Procurement

The Borough of South River owns and operates a municipal electric utility as a department of local government for the purpose of delivering reasonably priced, reliable electricity to its residents. The Borough is governed by a local governing body, which consists of the mayor and six council members, elected at-large. The mayor has a four-year term and council members have staggered three-year terms. The mayor is head of municipal government and sees that state laws and borough ordinances are faithfully executed. Council has all executive responsibility not placed in the office of the mayor.

The Borough's electric rates are set by the local governing body through an ordinance process and are not subject to oversight by the New Jersey Board of Public Utilities. The Borough relies on its participation in the PJM energy markets as well as on bilateral transactions to procure electric supply to serve its customers. The Borough has been approved by the State of New Jersey under N.J.S.A. §40A:11-5, to use a competitive procurement process to solicit proposals for, negotiate and contract for electricity supply that meets the goal of preserving the integrity of the government contracting process, and comports with industry standards. Any electric procurement transaction entered into on behalf of the Borough is limited to serving customers within its franchise area and can only be conducted pursuant to the terms of a fully executed enabling agreement, as authorized by the local governing body.

This risk management policy establishes a risk mitigation framework to address market, credit, liquidity, operational and counterparty risks associated with the procurement of electric supply at wholesale in accordance with all laws, rules and regulations that govern municipal finance in the State of New Jersey. This policy addresses the management of material risks incurred by the municipal electric utility in fulfillment of its duty to serve its residents with reliable and reasonably priced electricity through wholesale electric supply purchases within the PJM energy markets. Key personnel will be detailed in Appendix A.

B. Minimum Standards.

1. Segregation of Transacting and Risk Management Functions. The transacting function may be assigned to one or more persons in the direct employ of the municipality or to an outside company under a professional services contract. This function may also be provided through an intergovernmental agreement with one or more municipalities or state authority. The transacting function shall be assigned to the Energy Management Professional(s).

2. Authorization. Each local governing body shall authorize the designated risk officer to execute transactions on its behalf. Transactions can only be conducted pursuant to the terms of a fully executed enabling agreement, as authorized by the local governing body. The designated risk officer shall be present for each transaction and shall verbally confirm each transaction via recorded line. The designated risk officer shall also review and verify all transactions via written confirmation which is required for each transaction, pursuant to the terms of the fully executed enabling agreement.

3. Types of Counterparties. Each local governing body shall approve transacting enabling agreements that are fully vetted through the ordinance process, which entails two public readings and a public hearing. The enabling agreements establish legal and operational commitments and credit terms of each party. The designated risk officer shall be responsible for evaluating each counterparty by requiring documents that include items such as: U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission registration, FERC tariffs, proposed master contracts, evidence of ability to fulfill its duties through experience with successful transactions, evidence of ability to produce a performance guaranty, and audited financial statements. These documents may be reviewed by the designated risk officer prior to the execution of a transaction with a counterparty.

4. Types of Transactions. All transactions within electricity markets are for the sole purpose of serving customers within the franchise areas of the municipal electric utility. Transactors are expressly prohibited from speculating in any electricity market in violation of applicable statutes. Each local governing body shall approve the types of transactions which shall include:
   a. Two-party purchases or purchases from and sales into the PJM spot market with the express intent to serve its customers.
   b. Purchases of physical energy primarily delivered to the aggregate bus of the municipal electric utility, or if liquidity is not present, to other commonly traded points within PJM.
   c. Two-party purchases or purchases from and sales within the PJM Capacity Markets with the sole intent to hedge the PJM Locational Reliability Charge where such risk is associated with the municipal electric utility's obligation to serve load or rights held by the utility to generate electricity. All Capacity Market transactions should be confined to the applicable Load Deliverability Area. At present, limited opportunities exist to transact in the PJM bilateral capacity markets.
   d. Two-party purchases or purchases from and sales within the PJM ancillary services market with the sole intent to hedge ancillary service costs where such risk is associated with the municipal electric utility's obligation to serve load. Ancillary services are used to support the transmission of energy from generation sources to areas of load and to maintain reliable operation of the energy grid. At present, limited opportunities exist to transact in the PJM ancillary services markets.
   e. Transactions within the PJM ARR market, with a goal of nominating paths to maximize revenue. ARR's provide a choice to collect a fixed revenue stream by holding on to the ARR or to "Self-Schedule" their ARR's into the Annual FTR Auction. At present, the "Self-Schedule" option is currently not applicable as the municipal electric utility has not engaged as an FTR market participant. Express authorization by the local governing body is required prior to transacting in the PJM FTR Markets.
   f. Transactions within the PJM FTR Markets (obligation and/or option) with the sole intent to hedge congestion risk where such risk is associated with the municipal electric utility's obligation to serve load or rights held by the utility to generate electricity. All FTR Market activity shall be confined to such size and pathways that are either generally proportionate to or generally do not exceed the utility's physical transactions. All such transactions shall be consistent with the expressed intent to hedge its physical transactions. At present, this type of transaction is currently not applicable as the municipal electric utility has not engaged as an FTR market participant. Express authorization by the local governing body is required prior to transacting in the PJM FTR Markets.
   g. Virtual Transactions could be considered speculative and at present, this type of transaction is currently not applicable as the municipal electric utility has not engaged as Virtual market participant. Authorization by the local governing body is required prior to transacting as a Virtual market participant.

5. Qualifications for Transacting Functions. Employees, contract service providers, or employees of another municipality or state authority retained under an intergovernmental agreement must demonstrate the ability to fulfill the requirements of the municipal electric utility. The designated risk officer shall approve all qualifications. Primary functions shall include:

a. The ability to effectively and reliably transact and schedule within electricity markets.
b. The ability to effectively and reliably manage the utility's wholesale power supply portfolio.
c. The ability to interface effectively with representatives of PJM and electricity market participants.
d. Understanding of applicable PJM Tariff provisions.

These abilities may be demonstrated through experience with successful transactions, scheduling, and portfolio management within PJM Interconnection, LLC.

6. Billing and Settlement. The designated risk officer shall establish tolerance levels for PJM RTO and Counterparty settlement invoices based on budgets, historical invoice amounts, PJM spot prices, transmission costs, capacity costs, volumetric purchases, and forward market prices. Weekly invoices. The designated risk officer will promptly investigate amounts outside of thresholds.

   a. PJM RTO Billing and Settlements. The designated risk officer will provide or may authorize individuals or companies to perform PJM RTO billing and settlement services. The Borough has access to PJM reports via PJM's MSRS tool and may designate access to others. The designated risk officer has authorized the Energy Management Professional(s) to provide PJM RTO billing and settlement services. PJM RTO billing and settlement services include:
      - Analyzing and auditing the PJM RTO invoices for accuracy
      - Providing estimates for most PJM RTO charge types (daily, weekly and/or monthly)
      - PJM RTO settlement statement processing
      - Dispute resolution

   b. Counterparty Billing and Settlements. The designated risk officer will provide or may authorize individuals or companies to perform counterparty billing and settlement services. The designated risk officer has authorized the Energy Management Professional(s) to provide counterparty billing and settlement services that includes:
      - Counterparty check-out, verification, invoice preparation, and dispute resolution.

   c. Invoice Payment. Payment for all PJM RTO and counterparty invoices shall be administered by the municipality in accordance with N.J.S.A. 40A:5-14, Local Fiscal Affairs Law and all laws, rules and regulations that govern municipal finance in the State of New Jersey.

7. Credit Analysis and Counterparty Monitoring. Credit files shall be established for each counterparty consisting of financial statements, trade references and credit reports as furnished by Moody's, Standard & Poors, and/or Fitch. All systems should strive to only deal with investment grade rated companies or with their subsidiaries that provide parental guarantees in the form of credit support. All systems should continuously monitor counterparty credit quality for any material adverse change and require additional performance assurance for any counterparty not meeting the minimum criteria of investment grade by any of the rating agencies. The Energy Management Professional(s) shall establish and update credit files on a monthly basis, at a minimum.

8. Independent Review. New Jersey municipalities that operate electric utilities as departments of local government must:

a. Transact in electricity markets in compliance with New Jersey's Local Public Contracts Law, including N.J.S.A. 40A:11-5 regarding advertisement for contracts and permitting procurement of electricity through a State-approved procurement model and N.J.S.A. 40A:11-15(24) regarding the term of contracts.
b. Adhere to the Local Budget Law (N.J.S.A. 40A:4-1 et seq.) which provides that municipal public utilities are supported by the revenues generated by the respective operations of the utilities in addition to the general taxing power upon real property. The local governing body must adopt a separate utility budget, which must be balanced and provide fully for debt service. Annual cash basis budgets must be in the form required by the Division of Local Government Services, Department of Community Affairs, State of New Jersey. Proposed budgets must be approved by the Director of the Division prior to local adoption.
c. Adopt an annual cash management plan in accordance with N.J.S.A. 40A:5-14.
d. Comply with the Local Fiscal Affairs Law (N.J.S.A. 40A: 5-1 et seq.) which regulates the non-budgetary financial activities of local government. The Local Fiscal Affairs Law further requires the chief financial officer of a municipality to annually file, with the Director of the Division, a verified statement of the financial condition of the local unit and all constituent boards, agencies, and commissions.
e. Cause to be performed an annual independent examination of all local unit accounts by a licensed registered municipal accountant. This examination must conform to the Division's "Requirements of Audit" and must be published in the designated newspaper within 30 days of its submission pursuant to N.J.S.A. 40A:5-4.

C. Purchase-Specific Factors.

Risks to the Borough can manifest as cost fluctuations due to the price of electric commodities as well as volumetric deviations of the quantities. The most effective way to limit the fluctuations is through a defined hedging program. The defined hedging program is designed to limit exposure to the PJM spot market as well as limit exposure to congestion (basis) risk. The following factors are to be considered within the context of each wholesale purchase designed to hedge the noted risks. Systems may wish to include additional factors and locally-specific content for each factor for adoption under local policy.

1. Volumetric Risk. Annual, monthly, and hourly supply target commitment levels are established for each year based upon usage forecasts and most recent historical hourly load profiles will be used to limit exposure to the PJM spot market. Each wholesale purchase should be proportionate to the utility's target level and should not exceed the aggregate annual forecasted energy requirements. Target commitment levels are initially set with the goal of securing approximately ninety-five percent (95%) of the aggregate annual forecasted energy requirements via a physically-delivered product by the time the physical delivery period commences.
2. Congestion Risk. Purchases of physical energy will be primarily delivered to the aggregate load bus or zone of the municipal electric utility, or if liquidity is not present, to other commonly traded points within PJM. Target commitment levels are initially set with the goal of securing approximately one-hundred percent (100%) of physical energy delivered to the aggregate load bus or zone of the municipal electric utility.
3. Forward Commitments. Risk will generally increase relative to the term and effective date of delivery specific to each wholesale purchase. Risk management may include limits as to the term of forward commitments and the length of time between the date of each contract and the date upon which delivery is to be taken under each contract. Forward commitments can vary from one day and up to ten years. Terms will be determined in conjunction with pricing and volumetric targets.
4. Portfolios. Each system should make purchases consistent with a local strategy and goals. Goals are generally designed to limit exposure to the PJM spot market as well as limit exposure to congestion risk.
5. Present and Future Market Conditions. All systems should monitor current market conditions. The source or sources of this information may be internal, external, or both. Pricing targets or pricing ranges may be determined in advance. All systems are encouraged to share market information and the costs of obtaining the information from an external source. Energy prices can fluctuate based on current energy market conditions such as underlying fuel costs, supply and demand, geopolitical events, and weather patterns.
6. Credit Analysis and Counterparty monitoring. Minimum standards of creditworthiness and minimum guaranty requirements (credit support) are established prior to issuance of requests for purchase. Potential counterparties with bond ratings below credit quality may be disqualified from transacting, as rated by Moody's, Standard & Poors, and/or Fitch.
7. Counterparty Diversification. Risk may increase where a portfolio includes multiple contracts with a single counterparty. A limit as to the number of contracts with a single counterparty will diversify this risk. Counterparty diversity target limits should be established and monitored and may be exceeded for specific transactions upon prior approval of the local governing body. For electric energy, an initial target will be set where a single supplier may represent no more than fifty percent (50%) of the municipalities physically-delivered forward volume for any single twelve (12) month period. Supplier diversity is an important risk management philosophy and the municipality should strive for two or more suppliers for each rolling twelve (12) month Delivery Period.
8. Resource Diversification. When applicable, resource diversity limits should be established for the supply portfolio and monitored. Diversity limits should be consistent with a local strategy and goals.
9. Confirmation. Written confirmation shall be required for each transaction, pursuant to the terms of the fully executed enabling agreement. Confirmations must be secured within seven (7) business days of verbal agreement or upon terms in the fully executed master agreement. Conformation terms shall be verified by the energy management professional and shall be executed by the designated risk manager.

D. Operational Controls

1. Standards of Conduct. Individuals or companies authorized to transact or schedule on behalf of the municipality shall not misrepresent, conceal or withhold information regarding wholesale electricity procurements and risk management transactions to any person responsible for the accurate recording and/or reporting of such transactions; participate in any such transaction or similar activity for the benefit of any party other than the municipality; or hold or be a beneficiary of any financial interest in any entity with which the individual is engaged in trading with or other business activity (other than ownership of an interest in a mutual fund managed by another party).
2. Speculative buying or selling. Speculative buying or selling of any commodity is strictly prohibited. Speculating is defined as forward buying or selling of electric not required to serve Borough load or mitigate congestion exposure. In no event, shall transactions be entered into to speculate on future market conditions. The designated risk officer shall monitor PJM reports and transaction confirmations to ensure speculation is not occurring.
3. Portfolio valuation. Since all electric procurement transactions entered into on behalf of the Borough are limited to serving customers within its franchise area, the portfolio of purchases are valued at cost and no mark-to-market accounting is required.
4. Day-ahead Load scheduling. Target day-ahead load schedules are set with the goal of scheduling approximately ninety-five percent (95%) of the aggregate hourly forecasted energy requirements via the day-ahead market. The Spot Market Energy Charge Summary report shall be generated at least monthly by the energy management professional and provided to the designated risk officer.
5. Report generation and review. The energy management professional shall regularly generate PJM reports and provide to designated risk officer. The reports will include all weekly and monthly PJM invoices, DA Daily Energy Transactions, RT Daily Energy Transactions and Spot Market Energy Charge Summary. These reports will be used by the designated risk officer to validate transactions and/or positions such as delivery location for forward transactions, day-ahead, balancing and interchange spot market transactions, FTR auction transactions (if any), capacity auction transactions (if any) and to ensure risk management policies are being adhered to and validate that speculation is not occurring.

E. Liquidity

The requirement of a cash-based budget that is subject to annual audit and approval of the state director, with a separate section devoted solely to the municipal utility, provides assurance of the fiscal soundness of the municipality's plans for meeting the obligations incurred by the municipal utility. Municipalities also carry cash reserves as "fund balances." A fund balance is the amount of surplus funds that a municipality will have on hand for the following fiscal year. By accumulating surplus year-to-year, a municipality can help protect against unexpected revenue shortfalls or unanticipated costs. Should the actual costs differ from those budgeted, the municipality may utilize the fund balance or issue emergency appropriation bonds to fulfill the obligation if there is not enough cash on hand to pay the required sum. The Borough maintains a positive fund balance. Additionally, the State of New Jersey has enacted a set of fiscal responsibility restrictions applicable to municipalities and their utilities known as the Local Fiscal Affairs Law. New Jersey municipalities must operate under the Local Budget Law and the Local Bond Law. Together, these provisions ensure that municipal utilities in New Jersey are healthy and fiscally sound. Several powers are conferred upon municipalities to ensure the health and fiscal soundness such as:

1. Cash Management Plan. N.J.S.A. 40A:5-14, Local Fiscal Affairs Law requires that each municipality adopt a cash management plan designed to assure deposit, investment, and proper disbursement of local funds.
2. Local Budget Law. N.J.S.A. 40A:4-1 provides that municipal public utilities are supported by the revenues generated by the respective operations of the utilities in addition to the general taxing power upon real property. The local governing body must adopt a separate utility budget, which must be balanced and provide fully for debt service. Annual cash basis budgets must be in the form required by the Division of Local Government Services, Department of Community Affairs, State of New Jersey. Proposed budgets must be approved by the Director of the Division prior to local adoption.
3. Local Fiscal Affairs Law. N.J.S.A. 40A: 5-1 regulates the non-budgetary financial activities of local government.

4. Rate Fixing Authority. N.J.S.A. 40:62-13 provides that New Jersey municipal electric utilities have rate fixing authority. Rate mechanisms include base rates and pass-through rates. Pass-through rates are designed to match variations in certain cost elements within the electric utility – normally fuel and purchased power and certain transmission costs. Rates are reviewed at least annually and can be changed at any time through the ordinance process, which entails two public readings and a public hearing.
5. Taxing Power. N.J.S.A.40A:4-1, which, among other things provides that "Municipal public utilities are supported by the revenues generated by the respective operations of the utilities in addition to the general taxing power upon real property. Additionally, N.J.S.A 40A:60-6 provides the authority to raise taxes upon resolution of the municipal Council. And N.J.S.A 40A:2-4 and 40A:4-55.21 provides authority to raise taxes to pay bonds.
6. Bond Issuance Authority. N.J.S.A 40A:2-8.1 provides that New Jersey municipalities have the authority to issue bonds, and bond anticipation notes.
7. Emergency Appropriation Bond Issuance Authority. N.J.S.A 40A:4-46; 40A:4-45.3, 40A:4-49, and 40A4-51 provides that that New Jersey municipalities have the authority to issue emergency appropriation bonds.
8. Tax Anticipation Notes Issuance Authority. N.J.S.A 40A:4-64 provides that that New Jersey municipalities have the authority to issue tax anticipation notes.
9. Utility Anticipation Notes Issuance Authority. N.J.S.A 40A:4-74 provides that New Jersey municipal electric utilities have the authority to issue utility anticipation notes.

F. Know Your Customer

1. Customer/counterparty Identification Program. As a municipal electric utility organized to operate under New Jersey state law, the Borough has an obligation to serve all residents and businesses within its franchised territory. To obtain utility service, all customers must complete an application which requires a government approved form of identification or federal tax ID number. In addition, the applicant must provide proof of ownership or a rental agreement. The Borough reserves the right to make commercially reasonable inquires on the applicant with the major credit bureaus. The Borough will perform due diligence on counterparties including regular reviews of financial information, litigation, and regulatory compliance. Pursuant to New Jersey Public Law 2012, c. 25, any person or entity that submits a bid or proposal with a local unit in New Jersey must attest, under penalty of perjury, that the person or entity, subsidiaries, or affiliates, is not identified on a list created and maintained by the Department of the Treasury as a person or entity engaging in investment activities in Iran or recorded on a list of specially designated nationals and blocked persons for Russia or Belarus.

2. Anti-Money Laundering (AML), Anti-Bribery (AB) and Anti-Corruption (AC). Local government officers or employees under the jurisdiction of the Local Finance Board, mut abide by Local Government Ethics Law under N.J.S.A. 40A:9-22, the Bribery and Corrupt Influence Law under N.J.S.A. 2C:27 and Official Misconduct under N.J.S.A. 2C:30-2. The duties and responsibilities of public officials and employees are specifically laid out in Borough ordinances and all employees are subject to a code of conduct. This policy covers all transactions and activities conducted by or on behalf of the Borough. All records are maintained by the Borough and open for inspection. The Borough is committed to preventing money laundering, corruption, bribery, and other financial crimes and to ensure compliance with all laws, rules and regulations that govern municipal finance in the State of New Jersey, sanctions and Foreign Corrupt Practices Acts. The Borough prohibits and actively prevents any use of its services for money laundering, financing of terrorism, or other illicit activities. The Borough is committed to ensuring compliance with all applicable laws and regulations, implementing internal controls and procedures to detect and report suspicious activities. The Borough designates its Chief Financial Officer as the AML, AB, and AC compliance officer responsible for implementing and enforcing policies and reporting suspicious activities to the local governing body. However, it is noted that the transactions the Borough engages in for electric procurement, and counterparties it engages with, are very limited.

G. Compliance. The Borough is committed to compliance with PJM market rules and regulation and will provide any details of required periodic FERC training on market manipulation rules and PJM governing documents and manuals and who is required to take such training and frequency.
